Article 2

Preferential Right to Accommodation

1) Allocation of accommodation places is carried out by sorting the EUBA SD accommodation applications into a ranking list in three groups. Accommodation is granted preferentially to the group 1, then to the group 2 and lastly to the group 3. The groups are as follows:

- a) In group 1, EUBA SD accommodation will be granted to special needs students, i.e. those who are holders of a severe disability card and are officially registered in the special needs student list at the respective faculty as well as to full orphans.

EUBA students with limited mobility and their assistants shall have preferential right to accommodation in barrier-free rooms. If there is a rather large number of applicants with limited mobility, their assistants will be allocated accommodation in common rooms located close to barrier-free areas. Students that rely on the aid of their personal assistants are entitled to have their assistants accommodated under the following terms:

- the student documents the entitlement to the assistant's accommodation by presenting a valid appraisal of the Office of Labour, Social Affairs and Family (hereinafter the "Office") issued by the Office locally competent in the place of the student's permanent residence in accordance with Article 15 of the Act No. 447/2008 Coll. whereunder the student relies on personal assistance, and a valid ruling of the Office on the award of a personal assistance benefit. Both documents must be presented to the Accommodation Board according to the valid Accommodation Allocation Schedule for the respective academic year.
  - A student with severe disability who under Article 22 of the Act No. 447/2008 Coll. has been awarded a financial personal assistance benefit in the extent of clauses 1 – 6 of Annex No. 4 to the said act (getting up, going to bed, positioning, personal hygiene, dressing, undressing) is entitled to accommodation with a personal assistant where the personal assistant pays no price for the accommodation.
  - Responsibility for administration of newly accepted special needs students is assumed by the faculty coordinator designated for special needs students.
- b) As regards group 2: following accommodation allocation to group 1 students, the remaining EUBA SD accommodation capacity is allocated to students whose permanent residence is more than 50 km away from the UE in Bratislava. The AIS automatically assigns the respective distance in kilometres based on the distance table approved by the Accommodation Board of the UE in Bratislava. The distance table has been prepared using the accessibility of the UE in Bratislava by means of public transportation from the municipality of the student's permanent residence where there is a post office (hereinafter the "municipality"). If the municipality of the student's permanent residence has no post office, the respective kilometre distance to the EUBA shall be taken as the distance from the municipality with the nearest post office designated for delivery of letter consignments to the place of the student's permanent residence.

- c) After accommodation has been allocated to group 1 and group 2 students, the remaining accommodation capacity is assigned to the rest (group 3), except for students having permanent residence in Bratislava.

Article 3 Distribution of Capacity

- 1) The accommodation capacity assigned to individual EUBA faculties is reduced by:
  - a) places earmarked as the Rector's reserve,
  - b) places earmarked as the Dean's reserve,
  - c) places for students applying for accommodation on special grounds that occurred after the application submission date, or places for students resuming their studies after suspension of, or release from their studies,
  - d) places allocated to students having a preferential right to accommodation under Article 2(1)(a) of these Principles.
- 2) The remaining places are designated for students starting or continuing their studies at the respective EUBA faculty, and will subsequently be allocated according to the ranking list in the following ratio: 50% for students commencing their first year of the 1st higher-education level studies and for students commencing their first year of the 2nd higher-education level studies, and 50% for the remaining students in the 1st and 2nd higher-education level studies continuing their studies at the EUBA.
- 3) In the ranking list, accommodation applicants are divided based on their years of study, and within a specific year based on their study programme. The number of places is calculated as the percentage of the capacity based on the proportion of the students in the respective study programme in the total number of the applications submitted. The applicants will be ranked within such groups based on the number of points they have achieved in respect of accommodation in the given academic year; the points are determined under Article 4 hereof.
- 4) The accommodation place assigned is non-transferable; no person may take up the place other than one to whom it has been assigned.

Article 4 EUBA Accommodation Points

- 1) The order in which Application for Accommodation is submitted has no effect on accommodation allocation, i.e. the application of the person filed last within the deadline will be assessed in the same way as the application for accommodation filed first within the deadline.
- 2) Accommodation points used to compile the ranking list for individual student groups in the respective academic year can be obtained in the following categories: academic achievements, distance from the student's permanent residence to the UE in Bratislava and supplementary activities.
- 3) The total number of points is determined as the sum of the points achieved in the three categories ( $B=B1+B2+B3$ ).

- 4) Accommodation points for academic achievements (B1) of students commencing their first year of the 1st level of higher education studies who were accepted based on entrance examination results are calculated from the points achieved in entrance examinations, SCIO tests or any other nationwide contents in accordance with the principles of admission proceedings applicable to individual faculties.

$$\text{B1 points} = P$$

(for the Faculty of National Economy, study programme Economy and Law B1 points =  $\frac{3}{4} P$ )<sup>2</sup>

- 5) Accommodation points for academic achievements (B1) of students commencing their second and third year of the 1st level of higher education studies. The points are calculated based on the weighted arithmetic average of exam grades (designated as P where A = 1, B = 1.5, C = 2, D = 2.5, E = 3 and FX = 4, courses with no evaluation = 4, weights are represented by the number of credits for individual courses) undertaken by the student from 1 April of the last year to 31 March of the current year<sup>3</sup>.

$$\text{B1 points} = (4-P) \times 100$$

- 6) Accommodation points for academic achievements (B1) of students commencing their first year of the 2nd level of higher education studies are calculated based on the average of grades achieved in the Bachelor's degree state examinations (designated as "P").

$$\text{B1 points} = (4-P) \times 100$$

- 7) Accommodation points for academic achievements (B1) of students commencing their second year of the 2nd level of higher education studies are calculated based on the weighted arithmetic average of exam grades (designated as P where A = 1, B = 1.5, C = 2, D = 2.5, E = 3 and FX = 4, courses with no evaluation = 4, weights are represented by the number of credits for individual courses) undertaken by the student from 1 December of the last year to 31 March of the current year.<sup>4</sup>

$$\text{B1 points} = (4-P) \times 100$$

Accommodation points (B2) are calculated based on the shortest distance of the student's permanent residence from the place of study, i.e. the UE in Bratislava, using the following formula:

$$\text{B2 points} = \text{SQR}(\text{distance from place of permanent residence in km}) \times 4.$$

A student with permanent residence abroad will be assigned accommodation points for distance in the maximum amount of 100 points.
